

Robo Word Finder

Steer your robot across a giant letter board and spell words as a team. The letter picks are shared, so nobody hunts alone.

THE STORY

Robo Word Finder sits your team around a giant letter board on a cozy desk, with little robots walking the tiles. Hidden across the grid are the words you need to find. It is free to play and runs in the browser, so the whole team joins from one shared link.

Everyone draws from a single pool of letter picks, split across the team, and marking a word spends from it. That shared budget is what keeps it a team game. You cannot sweep the board alone, so someone spots a word, someone walks it, and the team decides together whether it is worth the picks. Most of the game happens out loud.

It is quick to teach and easy to drop into, which suits a remote team that wants a short break together. Every word the team finds refills the pool and keeps the round alive, and the board comes in nine languages if your group is not all English speakers.

HOW IT PLAYS

- 1 Join from the link
One person creates the game and shares the room link.
- 2 Walk the board
Move your robot with the arrow keys or WASD.
- 3 Mark a trail
Hold Space while walking to mark the letters you pass, and walk back over a marked tile to clear it.
- 4 Share the picks
The team shares one budget of letter picks, split between you, so talk before you spend.
- 5 Keep the rounds rolling
Each round shows its own list of words and a timer.
